

Two and a half years ago, TheBlaze established itself as an internet news and entertainment network. TheBlaze's availability now includes over 50 TV providers across America. However, that's just the beginning, and you the viewers can help continue to grow TheBlaze. Starting now, if your TV provider doesn't offer TheBlaze you can make your voice heard through email or by calling your local TV provider and request them to add TheBlaze. If you're not sure what number to call, please feel free to visit our website www.gettheblaze.com. There you will be directed to your proper TV provider where then you can request TheBlaze. If you've already called your TV provider, don't quit. Take action on Twitter or Facebook by going to your TV provider's social media's webpage and request them to add TheBlaze. Together we can add more voices and expand the TheBlaze movement to better reflect your values.

TheBlaze is a multimedia company dedicated to reaching its viewers with news and opinion.

- TheBlaze news website attracts more than 25 million unique visitors per month.
- TheBlaze TV is now circulated on over 50 television providers including 6 of the top 30.
- TheBlaze TV is the fastest growing cable station in the world.

TheBlaze isn't just a media company but a community that gathers as a source of information and empowerment.

- TheBlaze launched a non-profit charity organization called MercuryOne that responds to emergencies such as Hurricane Sandy and the Joplin, Missouri Tornado.
- TheBlaze holds a rally every summer; former rallies have been Restoring Honor, Restoring Courage, Restoring Love and Man on the Moon.
- TheBlaze has partnered up with the 9/12 project that is a grassroots organization that offers American history classes and organizes grassroots campaigns.

TheBlaze is committed to action by involving viewers with needed tools to be useful and effective citizens.

- Every news story provides a link for readers to share stories on Facebook and Twitter.
- TheBlaze news website offers a link called, "Take action," that allows readers to write their local congressmen and newspapers editors.
- TheBlaze provides viewers access to their online shopping store called the Marketplace.com where viewers can sell or buy products from small businesses, such as emergency and survival gear, educational books and games on US and World history.

Two target publics based on who you want to reach your messages

- Youth and college-aged adults ages 13-27
- The general public across America

Immediate Press Release
March 20, 2014
Matt Gardner
Email: jamesmattgardner@gmail.com
Phone: 801.788.9555

TheBlaze Radio Announces New and Exciting Plans to Expand its Voice in Philly

Glenn Beck's radio network named TheBlaze Radio is adding a new local flavor in Philadelphia, PA starting May of '14

New York, March 20, 2014 – TheBlaze Radio Network (www.theblazeradio.com) will begin offering its services to Philadelphia listeners on WPHT 106.9 FM starting Monday, May 3, 2014. TheBlaze Radio Network is owned and operated by Glenn Beck, a syndicated radio talk show host, and will add a new Philadelphia local flavor to Philadelphia listeners that will entertain and empower viewers with knowledge and information. TheBlaze will include local news, weather and traffic every hour. Philadelphia is the first of six cities around America that will offer TheBlaze Radio including Chicago, St. Louis, Phoenix, Houston and Salt Lake City.

“This is a great step towards our goal in making TheBlaze Radio part of every community around the country,” said Glenn Beck, Owner of TheBlaze. “I want to expand our brand and audience but first we are committed to raising up the next generation of intelligent and exciting talk show hosts that are focused on uniting the country instead of dividing each other as Americans.”

Philadelphia listeners will not only have the opportunity to hear the likes of Glenn Beck but also Pat Gray, Stu Burgiere, Doc Thomson and Buck Sexton – a new and talented star. Sexton will be broadcasting his radio show locally from O’Neal’s (311 S. 3rd St) starting Monday, May 3rd.

“Philadelphia will quickly come to gravitate and respect the views and stances that TheBlaze is committed to,” said Beck Sexton, radio host of TheBlaze’s Buck Sexton Radio Show. “Listeners will find out that TheBlaze not about left or right, we are about right and wrong.”

In the summer of 2012 Glenn Beck founded the TheBlaze TV/ Radio network by broadcasting its internet subscription TV/Radio network where customers pay up to $9.99 a month to access TheBlaze. Today TheBlaze Network can be found not just on the internet but is offered in over 50 television providers around America, making TheBlaze the fastest growing television network in the world. In addition Beck also founded TheBlaze News which has more than 25 million unique visitors each month, making it the second most visited news website in the world. TheBlaze Radio will soon be broadcasting in six additional major metropolis cities starting December of '14.

Visit Glenn Beck interview: www.TheBlaze.com

About TheBlaze:

Founded in 2012, TheBlaze is one of the world's fastest growing internet news, television and radio networks in the world. TheBlaze is headquartered in New York. TheBlaze is committed to delivering the news truthfully and isn't concerned about left- and right-wing agendas. TheBlaze News website has over 25 million unique visitors per month and TheBlaze TV is distributed on over 50 television providers, putting it among the fastest growing news network in the world.